BOOK SYNOPSIS

""Beautifully written and filled with inspirational stories. This book helps the reader find their light from within while empowering them to show our younger generation of woman that anything is possible."" Peggy McColl, New York Times Best Selling Author WOMEN and GIRLS unite, aspire and inspire! Mentorship and Empowerment to the P3 Women who were once day-dreaming young girls...when was the last time you allowed yourself to connect with your inner child and dream about what you really would like to do with your life? By meeting a myriad of commitments with grace, women sometimes lose sight of their true childhood desires once imagined, wild with wonder and adventure. If you are not driving towards dreams that are still on fire within you, whats holding you back? What could be holding back our current generation of young girls from aspiring to chase their dreams? "The ATHENA Prodigies: Empowering Women Empowering Girls" expands expertly beyond this single dimension and inspires two individual readers, encouraging the very powerful development of a mentoring dyad. As a mentor plants and grows her own roots, at the same time she will be helping her mentee discover and establish her own. What if more women guided young girls, inspiring them toward personal growth, leadership and excellence? How many boundaries, barriers and self-limitations could be broken down for girls everywhere? By having a dream, setting in place the action steps necessary, a woman as a mentor can help guide her mentee along their journey toward a genuine desire for success of her own. Danielle Joworski brilliantly uses her distinctive method of turning her journey into a reflection period for women readers encouraging them to re-connect and re-build not only their dreams, but their self-belief and confidence. In doing so, they help young girls identify their aspirations and grow their own success story through this exclusive mentoring dynamic. "The ATHENA Prodigies" empowers female readers to the power of three. Let the believing begin.
